M R. and Mrs. William Beverley have issued invitations for the wedding reception of their daughter, Mary Welby, to Robert Hermann Malmo, the ceremony to take place on Wednesday afternoon, September 6, at 5 o'clock, at "Mill Brook," the beautiful old place of the bride's father near Broad Run. Mr. Malmo formerly lived in St. Peters, Minn. but is now employed as an engineer in Panama, where Miss Beverley met him last winter. Miss Beverley belongs to one of the most distinguished families in the State and has been one of the most prominent girls in society of Northern Virginia for several years. The celebration of her wedding the first week in September at the old Beverley place, in Fauquar county, will take a large portion of fashionable people to Broad Run for the occasion, and the reception following the ceremony will be a very brilliant affair.

Mr. Malmo will take his bride abroad for a wedding trip of several months. the beautiful old place of the bride's

Charges preferred recently by Chas. A. Cooper against Officer C. E. Neville, of the Winchester police force, have been dismissed by Mayor H. H. Baker, who has taken occasion to administer a rebuke to the Police Committee of the Common Council for holding a hearing. The Mayor quotes certain sections of the Virginia law, which, he says, gives him exclusive control of the police force, and that the committee had no jurisdiction whatever in the matter. Cooper had been arrested and accused of stealing 348, and while at the police station he told Officer Neville that he (Neville) was not acting as a gentleman, whereupon the latter slapped Cooper's face. When Cooper appealed to another officer for protection he was told to "forget it." In the meantime, word came that the money had been found where Cooper had been told to place it, and he was discharged. He then proceeded to file charges against officer Neville, and the Police Committee held a hearing, at which the policeman acknowledged that he had acted hastily. Cooper was exonerated. The following day, Mayor Baker notified the committee in writing that the had already dismissed the case, and that it had exceeded its authority to take the secone account of the committee in writing that the thad already dismissed the case, and that it had exceeded its authority to take the secone account of the committee in writing the secone and that it had exceeded its authority to take the secone account of the committee in writing the secone and that it had exceeded its authority to take the secone account of the committee in writing the secone account of the writing the secone account of the writing the secone account of the writing the secone account of th [Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

A bold but unsuccessful attempt is believed to have been made to blow up the Southern Methodist Church camp-meeting at Ridgeway several nights ago, when a number of sticks of dan old cherry tree along the tracks of the Cumberland Valley Railroad near the camp-meeting grounds. When the explosion occurred the ground quivered and the meeting was thrown into great confusion. The villagers were greatly excited, and people ran pell-mell to and fro, asking what had happened. Windows were shattered and many apple trees in nearby orchards were almost stripped of their fruit by the force of the explosion. It is believed the desperado was afraid to place the dynamite closer to the big tent, fearing apprehension. An investigation of the affair is being made by the authorities of the railroad company and also of Berkeley county, in which the crime was perpetrated.

Harry Shopland, or Scranton, Pa., and Miss Delia Berlin, daugnter o. James Berlin, of Clarke county, were married in the Berryville Baptist Church on Taursday evening by the pastor, itev. Julius Broadaus, D. D. They left on an extended trip, after which they will live at Scranton, where Mr. Shopland is engaged in business.

James A. Anderson, a native of Hampshire county, W. Va., who has been making his home in Richmond since becoming a salesman for a gun and cartridge company, was thrown from a runaway team near Capon Springs several days Lgo and dragged some distance by the horses after the buggy had been overturned. The horses stopped on the edge of a steep mountainside, and when Anderson crawled out he was suffering greatly from cuts and bruises. He is well known throughout Virginia and other States as a professional rifleman.

Just as Oscar Wild, member of a well-known Berkeley county family, stepped off a train at Martinsburg several days ago, after a long absence, he was arrested on charges prejerred by a young woman, Kyhe Kerns. Wild, cesisted arrest and kicked Chief of Police Rind in the face, but he finally was overpowered and taken to jail. He waived a hearing and has been held for the grand jury.

William Young, a native of Winches ter, seventy-three years old, who served in the Fifth Virginia Infantry Company, known as the Marion Rifles, during the Civil War, was stricken with paralysis at his home in Berryville last week and died without regaining consciousness. He leaves his wife, two sons, one daughter and two sister.

Rev. Joseph H. Cooley, a former Winchester groceryman, who has been in charge of the Southern Methodiso mission at Woodstock for several years, has decided to quit the min-lstry and engage in fruit-growing and farming near Winchester. He recently paid about $16,000 for a farm, and also has bought a new brick residence in Eight acres of unimproved land, sit-uated near the Valley Pike, two miles south of Winchester, were sold last week by James R. Affleck to Miss Har-riet E. Burkie, of Pittsburg, Pa., for $300 an acre. Miss Burkle will build a bungalow on the place.

Scott Grant, a well-known Frederick county farmer and stockman, paid $16,-000 for forty-three acres of land belonging to W. R. Doll, situated near New Market, Shenandoan county. The land contains 1,700 apple trees, nine years old, and about 1,500 bearing pear trees, as well as a house and barn.

Residence Destroyed.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Amherst, Va., August 13,—The residence of John J. Cunningham, near Riverville, in the lower end of this county, was destroyed by fire last night about 9 o'clock.

Nothing was saved but a gun and one trwnk. The smokehouse and two hon houses, which were near, the dwelling also were destroyed.

At the time of the fire there was no one at home but Mr. Cunningham and his five-year-old son, the other members of the family having gone to church Mr. Cunningham took a lighted lamp and went into his kitchen, thinking he heard a dog there. He put; the lamp on a table and it blazed up. He attempted to throw it into the yard, but it struck against a window screen and either broke or exploded. In a few minutes the whole building was in a blaze.

Mr. Cunningham's loss will amount to about $2,000, and is partly covered by insurance.
